MANAGING CONSULTANT & SENIOR PROJECT MANAGER

MARIO SPARRER

I see myself as a very communicative and sociable person who likes to actively discover new environments and take challenges. Talks with open-minded people inspire and empower me to enthusiastically work on challenging but exciting things. As a loyal business partner and colleague, I act in a very reliable and responsible way.

I love sailing on Lake Neusiedl to sort my thoughts and get inspired for new ideas as well as joining nature either on my bike or in my roadster. I am a typical digital native and millennial who admires new technologies and lives contemporary leadership and the modern way of life. What I value most is spending time with my family and friends.

„Big things happen when you do the little things right.“
